Like a little locket hangs around your little neck
so closely to your heart so shall I be, forever

I know you're going somewhere new and I know it's never going to feel like home to you but this time the only way around is through

Keep looking up, on past the birds keep looking up, past the clouds and when you reach up
and clear away the stars
I will be there where you are

so shall i be, forever

And even if you run away put on all your dark clothes hide in shadows just remember this one thing Keep looking up, on past the birds

I will be there where you are
I will be there

Keep looking up, on past the birds

Keep looking up, on past the birds

So closely to your heart
