All the smiles that i knew this year you put onto my face send me one from miles away and all these pictures spread across the room the faces all shine through brings me right back home with you Cause the way i fela bout yoU makes me tell myself
"i've never loved anyone before"
you came alone
now as, your standing there in front of me it's easier to say
"your so beautiful to me" and all this time alone, we ask ourselves "why did life tear us apart?!" i hold you right in my heart cause the way i feel about you

makes me tell myself
I've never loved anyone before"
you came alone
when i come home again
will it be the same way that we dreamed it's always been to not come home again to not come home will be the same way we've dreamed.
