I've been waiting for this moment
Dissipating flames in motion
Anxious to be something more than mechanical
Anxious to be something more than human

Something is happening

And it's gravity pulling at the stars
Like a hurricane feeding off applause
I defy the universe and I...

The brave will face it, come and go
But legends stem from steadfast heroes
This courage is my armor

Something is happening

And it's gravity pulling at the stars

Like a hurricane feeding off applause
I defy the universe, and I refuse to burn away

So light me up and send me shining
This dark horse sent to fight and die for
All that I have come so far for Crossing blazing skies and bright stars
The world is watching, I'm out of options
And I refuse to burn away, to burn away

And it's gravity pushing back at the stars
I defy the universe, and I...
