I saw what you saw,
And I felt what you felt,
Yeah I know what you know -
We're so different in the light.

It wasn't your fault,
Though girl don't blame me.
Consent never felt so hesitant
Within this surety.

Cuz' I know you,
And you know me,
So why can't we
Act like nothing's changed?

Time and time again
We've made this jump
To more than friends,
Seen the way it ends.
It's the same thing every time:

You wake up in my arms,
Day breaks and you're gone,
I fall to pieces for
The hours in between.

Night falls and you're here,
Drawing me near
To the lips I know so well
But a face I've never seen.

Bed of roses,
Thick with thorns,
Draws me in,
Leaves me torn.

I can't remember
What came before
The pain we gained

From wanting something more.

Cuz' I know you,
And you know me,
So why can't we
Act like nothing's changed?

Time and time again
We've made this jump
To more than friends,
Seen the way it ends.
It's the same thing every time:

You wake up in my arms,
Day breaks and you're gone,
I fall to pieces for
The hours in between.

Night falls and you're here
Drawing me near,
To the lips I know so well
But a face I've never seen.

Can you feel me now,
Do you believe
That you're all I want
And all I need?

You wake up in my arms,
Day breaks and you're gone,
I fall to pieces for
The hours in between.

Night falls and you're here
Drawing me near,
To the lips I know so well
But a face I've never seen
