There's nothing like a little guilt to make you feel like
you want to cry

There's nothing like a little guilt to make you feel like you want to

Feel like you want to die

I've been bad and I've been mean

I've burned every bridge across this social scene

I can't be taken anywhere

'Cause I might run into an ex-affair

I feel so sick

I can't sleep

I got my head in the toilet with a case of dry heaves

I'd give anything to get rid of this mood poisoning

There's nothing like a little guilt to make you feel like
you want to cry

No, there's nothing like a little guilt to make you feel like you want to

Feel like you want to die

Maybe I'm overreacting

Yeah, so I've cheated

It's not like I've killed, like I've raped and pillaged

Yeah, I can go anywhere

Get out of this house, no need to feel scared

Hit some clubs, hit the streets

But before I know it I've got the dry heaves

I would give anything to get rid of this mood poisoning

There's nothing, nothing like a little guilt

Nothing like a little guilt
