I can't write another song about you
Another story of love gone wrong
No, I can't write

I'd rather die than write another verse concerning you Can't have you thinking I'm hanging on
No, I can't write

Another song 'bout how you left and now I'm all alone
Another song 'bout how you won't answer your telephone
Another song
I thought you might appreciate the info
I can't write another song about you

I have a life
I've got a lot of things to say, I do
Can't have you thinking I'm all about you
I can write

I can write something political
Something affecting that I just saw on the news
Something with insight
Something impersonal
I can write sans you

Another song
Yeah, I write another song, oh yeah
Another song
That has no chorus about loneliness
Another song
About some topic I've not thought of yet
I can write another song

Not about you (this ain't about you)
Another song
This ain't about you
Another song
I can write another song

I can do it by myself
No, I don't need you anymore

I can find myself a new muse
I can write
I can write sans you
