I saw your ad on the TV
I was at first skeptical
But you promised that you could change me
So I called you up, thought what the hell

How did I ever live without you?
How did I ever live before?
How did I ever live without you?
I can't imagine it at all

How did I ever live before?

Since I got your panacea
I don't have no more problems
I mean, not that I don't have none
I just don't seem to care much
I'm just gliding along
Yeah, my ambitions are gone
I'm happy with my lot
Since I've been using your product

How did I ever live without you?
How did I ever live before?
How did I ever live without you?
I can't imagine it at all

How did I ever live before?

But lately I've been feeling
A touch like I used to before
The frightening real me
I need to take some more
I need order more of your thing

Because I'll never live without you

How could I ever live without you?
How did I ever live before?
How did I ever live without you?
I can't imagine it at all

How did I ever live before?
