It's funny how one dance can turn into forever
It's funny how one look can change you for the better
I wasn't looking for anything but I found my everything
Standing in my doorway like no one had before

And I will try to remember all the things about you
How you changed my world
And I will try to be everything that you need me to
And change your world

Try to Change My World

I remember in your eyes the way we were together
Not long to realize I found a friend forever
You shared with me anything like no one else before
I gave to you everything. Still want to give you more
And I will try to remember all the things about you
How you changed my world
And I will try to be everything that you need me to
And change your world

And forever, I'll remember
Where we started, where we started.

Try to change my world
Try to change my world

And I will try to remember all the things about you
How you changed my world
And I will try to be everything that you need me to
And change your world

Try to change my world
Try to change my world
