So cold tonight
Outside I, stare up at another endless sky
Tomorrow I will leave this town for good for now
Isn't it so damn funny how these things work out
I said it all, my last good-bye
Remembering all those times when I
Were sure of myself and my place in this life
And I shout and find myself alone tonight

I'm staring back at you
I start to drive away
The distance grows and I realize
That I am gone to stay this time.
I left my home town now
I'm wondering when all these said and all is done
Will you still be the one to drag me down!

So cold tonight
Outside I, stare up at another endless sky
Tomorrow I will leave this town for good for now
Isn't it so damn funny how these things work out
I said it all, my last good-bye
Remembering all those times when I
Were sure of myself and my place in this life
And I shout and find myself alone tonight

I'm staring back at you
I start to drive away
The distance grows and I realize
That I am gone to stay this time.
I left my home town now
I'm wondering when all these said and all is done
Will you still be the one to drag me down!

You drag me down! X 3
Yeah yeah yeah you!
You drag me down!
