(Lari White/Chris Waters)

It's been awhile since I've seen you around
You don't come down to the lonely side of town
Since we've been out of touch
I'm not too hard to find
But it doesn't hurt so much
'Cause I spend all my time

Where the lights are low
Where the jukebox plays
The saddest song it knows
Through a smoky haze
Since you've been gone
That's where I go
'Cause everything looks better
Where the lights are low

In the dark I'm just part of the crowd
It's hard to tell who it is I'm there without

In some tall stranger's arms
Your memory's not so clear
I can cry all night long
'Cause no one sees the tears

Where the lights are low
Where the jukebox plays
The saddest song it knows
Through a smoky haze
Since you've been gone
That's where I go
'Cause everything looks better
Where the lights are low

Yes, everything looks better
Where the lights are low
