

Charon "Colder"

Visit "Colder" on MotoLyrics.com

Come along with the whispering cold and fall
They left you nothing more to seek from here.
So roll the feast in flames unforgettable
Take a bow to the end, reload your remorse
Every line is a thorn bite through your eyes
Still remains the everlasting hope for a bitter war.
If it has made you colder turning your life for justice
They have learned to obey.
Broken the rules I followed, burning for name so hollow
I will learn to obey.
If it has made you colder
They have learned to obey.
Among the weak and heartless
I can breathe the air in just like them
Still remains the everlasting hope for a bitter war.
If it has made you colder turning your life for justice
They have learned to obey.
Broken the rules I followed, burning for name so hollow
I will learn to obey.
If it has made you colder
They have learned to obey.
If it has made you colder turning your life for justice
They have learned to obey.
Broken the rules I followed, burning for name so hollow
I will learn to obey.
If it has made you colder
They have learned to obey.

Visit Charon page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.