Peace behind your eyes is nothing I admire
Revealed, devoted to something you can't hide
In to the darkest hour, she cast upon her roam
Haven't you learned how this went too far Has it been a sin, the weight on me and than I could steap.
Slow where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail
dreams
Buried in deep water, built in me.
A song for lost desire to make it all come alive
Revealed, devoted to something you can't hide Slowly breathing in what they have praise to still Haven't you learned how this went too far
The weight on me themo than I could reap.
Slow where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail
dreams
Buried in deep water, built in me.
Where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams.
She's on for the everlast scum-desire and the lust will burn her eyes
Free round in heaven and back to hell, where the courage blows the horns.
Slow where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail
dreams
Buried in deep water, built in me.
Where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams.
