i keep staring out of this window hoping that ill see you arrive separated by all this distance but darling it is so worth the drive so it should come as so no surprise that i love seein my reflection in your eyes, and i know why, yeah i know why,
your an angel comin down you are my anchor in the sound and i am thankful for the way you keep me grounded but you are taking off again it seems you never get to spend more then a couple days with me here on this planet you drive me crazy with the way that i sit around your way just to see that perfect smile again oh that grin
i wanna follow you wherever go and you know that i would if you'd just say that you are stayin for good.

you keep leaving before im ready, to let you go and im left alone.
and right now you come down to visit but darlin one day itll be home.
that i love seein my reflection in your eyes,
and i know why, yeah i know why,
you are my anchor in the sound and i am thankful for the way you keep me grounded
it seems you never get to spend more then a couple days with me here on this planet you drive me crazy with the way that i sit
your perfect smile again, oh that grin, i wanna follow you wherever go and you know that i would, if you'd just say that you were stayin for good.
