We went down to the river
Her and I, heart by heart
And parked the car and got naked
On the last day of that summer

Such a good thing never last
Such a good thing always brakes
Such a good thing never last
Such a good thing always brakes

We went skating last winter
Her hair had grown, and she was blonde
Said she found some kind of happiness
Said she found a decent man

Such a good thing never last
Such a good thing always brakes
Such a good thing never last
Such a good thing always brakes

Such a good thing always brakes
