

Lasse Lindh

"The Heart Is Old"

Visit "The Heart Is Old" on MotoLyrics.com

She came across the room without notice,
The tears and the blood locked in the walls
She took one step, two steps, three steps, soon she was dancing
She said here is where I will find peace

But the heart is old and the pain must grow,
It's the one thing you can't skip
It's the broken jaw, it's the cut from the saw,
It's the shape from with she must bend

She took Tuinal and Seconol, but still she couldn't find it
The peace that she needed so bad

Cause the heart is old and the pain must grow,
It's the one thing you can't skip
It's the broken jaw, it's the cut from the saw,
It's the shape from with she must bend

Yeah the heart is old and the pain must grow,
It's the one thing you can't skip
It's the broken jaw, it's the cut from the saw,
It's the shape from with she must bend

What was it she saw on the roof that night
What re-shaped her face
On the roof that night, what was it she saw
What changed her tune, what was it she saw,
What stole that light and put it deep down under and beneath

Visit Lasse Lindh page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.