Run uphill for the clean blue sky watering into my heart,
I run up steep hill
I am looking for what's going on... what's going on over the top

The road is so tough but when I stood on the uphill

A landscape haven't seen before came into my vision
And the landscape wonderful beyond you imagine
What a fun!

If you keep running every day like mad
Why don't you try to walk only for today
Just slow down and breath deeply and breath deeply

Blue sky remind you breath of life found for today

You see the young leaves of the trees never found before
A tiny discovery and us what bring for tomorrow

You'll found today
You'll found today
You'll found today, means so much to you if you keep believing so

Blue sky remind you breath of life found for today

A landscape haven't seen before came into my vision
And the landscape wonderful beyond you imagine
What a fun!
