"Rebel Fire"

Running through the ruined world running through with the shabby car Always getting together with the big question but still tight little hope in my hand I wouldn't take any orders from anyone because I am not a house doggy
I am not a man who was born here because I am in the
backside of the world
Destroy the shock waving here strongly and surely Fire rebel before we are made like junk

Where have the really beauty gone?
Where have the real things gone?
We play for an ideal keep playing forever with my voice and my body and soul

I am not a man who was born here because I am in the
backside of the world
Destroy the shock waving here strongly and surely

backside of the world

Fire rebel before we are made like junk
