The wave has left the shore.
The storm has left nothing behind.
A man is out there searching. for something he can't find.
The shepherd has found his one lost sheep.
Got back and found the other thousand gone.
So hard to stand up straight.
See life in the eye without being someone else.
So hard to stand up straight.
She always walked the line.
One day found a track. made of tiny stones.
Her candle was lit. but the storm will blow it out.
The stones will close her eyes. from what she wants to see.
She won't see me.
No.
So hard to stand up straight.
See life in the eye without being someone else.
A girl was found but it wasn't hers.
Try not to fail out. you said you would be with me until the end
