In your world I stood on display
I can't go home anymore
It happens every single day
But I still keep to what I swore

You can't display me
(Maybe we'll never know)
(Maybe we'll never know)
You can't display me
(Maybe we'll never know)
(Maybe we'll never know)

As people leave and places die
I still hold to what is mine
I try to learn
Try to leave

Try to re-live everything
'Cause I know what's mine and you can't come clean
No you just can't come clean!

And though you're always on my mind
I will never compromise

You can't display me
(Maybe we'll never know)
(Maybe we'll never know)
You can't display me
(Maybe we'll never know)
(Maybe we'll never know)
