"Blind Leading The Blind"

The rain has come, the pains begun and everything is going wrong for you And insecurities come through
Who will you trust, what will you do, where will you go How will you cope when things go wrong, running to those known so long

Trusting those to pull you through, they're human too Leaning on their human nature, it will never do

I just thought that you might like to know That there's nothing more that I can do for you

Hold tight my friend and in the end your just reward Will be the peace you find is yours and everything will turn out right

I told you once, I told you twice, please don't listen to my advice
Cause I'll leave you on the ground again
