There's so much to be rectified, I wonder if I even tried Could I put away the man that I've become At least I'll try, so throw me every word, on everything That ever I did wrong, it's safe to say maybe I lost track Will you be the one to take me back And remind me how the change must start in me Tear it down, I'll understand, it wasn't any good for them
We'll try again and know that's not the end Say what you will, but I've got reasons to believe That everything I said was true, but you've got reasons to go on Believing good intentions also kill, I want to be the first to admit that
First to step back
Hold on and let me explain that I'm wrong, and don't want to go on Cause I can't, can't find the way out, This change that needs to start with Slow down, I'll do anything to move on
And build what we needed
I know now where to begin
A change that needs to start with only me
