

Last Tuesday "All These Things"

Visit "All These Things" on MotoLyrics.com

All these things we justify them and we redraw the lines
Will it ever end?

Compromise the days behind us, let the lessons go
Will it ever end?

Take it away, take everything, take all the things, that got us here

(forget the cost, forget the loss, forget yourself)

They've been replaced

Don't condescend, that will offend, and in the end

What's there to say (another day, that slips away... you know you let it get away)

It's all gone

All these things (we let them slide)

Hold soft again, let others in, ease up and then there is no room, for where we began

We separate, and seal the fate, of those to come

We'll ask how (we're gonna find ourselves alone...we've lost it all)

We got this lost

Let it slide, and don't deny

All these things we compromise

(All these things we let them slide...compromise)
