When I see the sun
Shining over everyone
Does this mean that we're here?
Memories unfold when we stood out in the cold
Just waiting for the next day to appear

When we wait out in the rain
You drive me totally insane
Picturing what we never had in my mind
Standing all alone
I can hear a distant moan
Are you calling out my name
Are you calling out my name?

You don't hear my silent scream
Calling out your name
You're too perfect
Things would never be the same
When I woke up to reality
Just to realize you were a side-plot character
That was based on an indie movie

When I see the sun
Shining over everyone
Does this mean that we're here?

Memories unfold when we stood out in the cold
Just waiting for the next day to appear

When we wait out in the rain
You drive me totally insane
Picturing what we never had in my mind
Standing all alone
I can hear a distant moan
Are you calling out my name
Are you calling out my name?

You don't hear my silent scream
Calling out your name
You're too perfect
Things would never be the same
When I woke up to reality

Just to realize you were a side-plot character
That was based on an indie...

Never gonna say what you want to say
Calling out my name
Never gonna say what you want to say
Calling out my name
