New Year's eve of this past year was the start of something new took the train home by yourself we were destined from the start i could even smell the air from the alter on our day

i've been waiting
to breathe your skin
does he know your life?
for you

live your life without me you'll die trying cause
your life's worthless
and i'm your only hope

i remember seeing you looking through those bright blue eyes knowing i felt home inside i thanked God for every kiss every time your mouth was mine your taste lingers with my pride

gone a long time and you've been wrong (4x's) a long time you've been gone a long time
a long time
