Didn't want this time to come
But we both knew that it would
And i wish i could explain things
In a way you understood
But there's things that just wont make sense
No matter what i do
And i hate to be the one whos fosed to make you
Feel like you do
Time takes more toll
And leaves us torn apart again
Why wait for a purpose or reason to pretend
Broken hearts it's true they mend
Girl you don't need somone to tell you when
I blame myself and don't know why
It was fate that brought us here
I just wish i could turn things round
And make it crystal clear
That you mean so much to me
And that it hurts so much inside
But i can't help but think that the both of us well

Always wonder why
Time takes more toll
And leaves us torn apart again
Why wait for a purpose or reason to pretend
Broken hearts it's true they mend
Girl you don't need somone to tell you when
Ive waited for this time to come for years
But now weve left in tears
For all it's worth
How much these moments hurt so much
Time takes more toll
And leaves us torn apart again
Why wait for a purpose or reason to pretend
Broken hearts it's true they mend
Girl you don't need somone to tell you when
Broken hearts it's true they mend
Girl you don't need somone to tell you when
