Lathun
"Fortunate"

There you are rose amongst the weeds
Subtle as the summer breeze, you're perfectly seen A gift to me, you shine so brightly like a diamond in the sky
And you're the reason why you opened up my eyes
You're like a portrait or a picture painted very long ago
A moment frozen in time immortalized in my mind Never lost a precious find a poetic silhouette for my eyes

Fortunately you, you have me, I have you
It's fortunate for us, we have love, love has us
It's fortunate that we, we have time, on our side
Never take for granted, that we are so fortunate to be

Can't imagine me, without the missing piece like a puzzle incomplete
But together are a masterpiece, I used to dream
And fantasize of you and I spending any time and now
I'm so overjoyed
That I have found the missing piece to my life
If I could travel back in time for the creation of life
I'm sure that what God did for me would have been this very thing
Within you divine and supreme

Fortunately you, you have me I have you
It's fortunate for us, we have love, love has us
It's fortunate that we, we have time on our side
Never take for granted, that we are so fortunate to be

You're like an architect of sweetness
A man whose never heard can hear the melodies
Of your voice when you heart sings a song

You have me I've got you
It's fortunate for us, we have love, love has us
It's fortunate that we, we have time on our side
Never take for granted that we are so fortunate to be

Fortunately you, you have me, I have you
It's fortunate for us, we have love love has us

It's fortunate that we, we have time on our side
Never take for granted that we are so fortunate to be

You have me I've got you
It's fortunate for us, we have love, love has us
It's fortunate that we, we have time on our side
Never take for granted that we are so fortunate to be
