I wake up, its 5 past 9
I see your face next to mine
It's like you came from heaven
Guess the angels are on my side
Outside the sky is bright
I smile and close my eyes
I must be dreaming

I hope we never say goodbye
When the sun sets in your eyes
And as we watch the day go by
I'll think of you through the night

Through the darkness of the sky
Waiting for the morning light
I hope that time will never fly
As the sun sets in your eyes

As the dawn comes over me
I sit here asking why'd you leave
You promised me we'd see each other
My heart had flown so high
Then a call came through tonight
Seems I've lost you without a fight
Wish I was dreaming...
We might have to say goodbye
Last time the sun sets in your eyes
I'm left here lying with a sigh
I'll think of you through the night

Through the darkness of the sky
Don't want to see the morning light
I hope that time will never fly
As the sun sets in your eyes

Let the sun set in your eyes...
Let the sun set in your eyes...
In your eyes...

So I guess I'll say goodbye
Once the light's died in your eyes
As the rest of time goes by

You're in my mind forever
Through the darkness of the sky
Waiting for the morning light
Time never seems to fly
Last sunset in your eyes
