For all times never thought I would lose sight
Cuz my heart desires what I always have known
And the ways of life blinding me
I'll never, never close my eyes again
Keep myself from all the blessings you possess
You always give your all

So amazingly you've showed me a life
You've brought me back
To where I need to be
Now I found the gift inside of me

I've learned to breathe again
I've learned to live again
Now I feel it's like I never lived before
See life through every open door
And it's all because of you
I've learned to breathe again

Sometimes I sit and think about
Where I've been and where I am right not
I was hiding from what
I should've been running too

So amazingly you've showed me a life
You've brought me back
To where I need to be
Now I found the gift inside of me

I've learned to breathe again
I've learned to live again
Now I feel it's like I never lived before
See life through every open door
And it's all because of you
I've learned

Finally you made me realize
You're my refuge
You're my shelter from the start
You're my salvation
And you're alive in me again, again

I've learned to breathe again
I've learned to live again
Now I feel it's like I never lived before
See life through every open door
And it's all because of you
I've learned to breathe again
