"Die"

Just an ordinary man just an ordinary guy
Got my life on top, spend some time to settle down
Are you ready to be taken away?
Would you leave it all behind?

Die, you need to die
Leave this world far behind. A better place for you and I
Die, you need to die
The chain that bind us here will free By the one who holds eternity

Heading down that same old road, to the point of no return
You know you have a choice. isn't it time to make a turn There's so much more to life for you to see
Can you imagine what I mean

Die, you need to die
Leave this world far behind. A better place for you and I
Die, you need to die
The chain that bind us here will free By the God who lives eternally

Die, you need to die
Leave this world far behind. A better place for you and I
Die, you need to die
The chain that bind us here will free. We will live eternally
