"Lay Your Burdens"

Visit "Lay Your Burdens" on MotoLyrics.com

Your mind is screaming and your heart is bleeding
You're soul aches and you don't know why
Searching for answers in religious myths
But nothing seems to satisfy

Emptiness grips your soul
Alone, forever falling into this black hole

Lay your burdens down
Chains will fall and you will be free
Lay your burdens down

Our eternal stai'n been paid for you and me

All your friends fade away
Left alone with nothing to say
Millions of questions burn in your soul
There is healing the heart can find

Look to the sky, never forget
Don't live in endless regret
