My ironwill is just a fake
You can see me through
My heart of stone's about to break
Nobody knows it but you

When I am down
You take me high

Feels like heaven
Blaze across the evening sky
Feels like heaven
In the blink of an eye
My points of view are not my own
But the ones I defend
My wings of faith are broke and thrown
But not too late to mend

These highlight moments come and go
I keep them in my heart
And every time I'm feeling low
I know you're right behind
