

Laudamus "Lost In Vain"

Every time I see you, your eyes are full of fear
Every time I listen, your voice cries silent tears
Laying in your bed at night, scared to make that choice
Scenes torturing your mind, so scared, but still so blind

You're waiting for consolation
But on this path you'll find no solution

Lost in Vain

A frozen heart will burn a lukewarm soul
Lost in Vain
If you believe the lie you won't be free

Every time I seek you, you turn and run away
Every time I miss you, my heart is full of pain
Loving you is what I do, please try to understand
I died so you could come with me, to the Promised
Land
