Boy, you look so pretty
you're such a giddy chameleon!
When you squat so witty
no one can find your fine skin!

Skylarks and ducks and quail cannot even believe a part of your story!
You're not the son of vagabond garlic and claw; just tell them you're my own love!

If you lie I will weep sipping demons like a bee!
If you lie I will creep like the demons in your dreams!

Boy you look so pretty;
you're such a nutty chameleon!
Changing fur's so easy
when you don't know who you are!

Robins and swans - My God - a pond give me a pound and I'll buy your freedom!
Want to be saved? - It's me, you see,
down on my knees, relieved if you are happy!

If you lie I will weep sipping demons like a bee!
If you lie I will creep like the demons in your dreams!

Why do you look so sad; don't you see we understand?
If you jump from that tree
we will catch you; you can count on me!

You lie? Yes, you lie and I weep sipping demons like a bee!
You lie and I creep like the demons in your dreams!
