There were eaths,
Lapping of liquor
There was a duet
When we were of the dark
Supported us the air, some stars
While fingers on strings.

You said you started singing a melody
so responding with another melody.
A precious gift to time,
This moment.

Now you're standing before glittering diamonds
Just out of reach.
They glitter even I think they're pretty
Will you reach them?
They take a lap of you
From the hands
Of those with empty hearts.

People below
Crave for you,
Stealing your very skin
From your body,
And they make a wall
Between yourself
And my own body.
Closer thus.

Now you're standing before glittering diamonds
Just out of reach.
They glitter even I think they're pretty
Will you reach them?
They take a lap of you
From the hands

Of those with empty hearts
Seeking to own the gifts.
Seeking to own the gifts.
Seeking to own the gifts.

Now you're standing before glittering diamonds
Just out of reach.

Now you're standing before glittering diamonds
Just out of reach.

They glitter even I think they're pretty
Will you reach them?
They take a lap of you
From the hands
Of those with empty hearts
Seeking to own the gifts.

English version of "Irraggiungibile", never released on an album, but performed during L'Aura's early shows.
