Feel it tonight
Rainin' down as cold as ice
The air that we breathe
Is all we share between us

Wearing the scars
Deep inside our desert hearts
Tell me where did it go
Why did love ever leave us

Now the memories burn in my eyes
As I remember the look of the broken hearted
Never thought I'd be one of their own

We're standing in a shadow forever
Her shadow's in the way of our love
What should have been forgotten forever more
The shadow of what was

Now I'm the one who loves you
But I know we can't hide, we can't run
From the shadow she casts on the night
The shadow of love

I want to believe
Everything that I can't see
But the truth always lies
Somewhere in between us

I can't help what I feel in the night
Thoughts disturbing the sleep of our innocent lives
Will these dreams ever leave us alone

We're standing in the shadow forever
Her shadow's in the way of our love
What should have been forgotten forever more
The shadow of what was

Now I'm the one who loves you
But I know we can't hide, we can't run
From the shadow she casts on the night
The shadow of love

I want to know, I'll always be all alone with you
I'm the only one, but long before we ever were
You belonged to her, she still isn't gone

Now I'm the one who loves you
But I know we can't hide, we can't run

We're standing in the shadow forever
Her shadow's in the way of our love
What should have been forgotten forever more
The shadow of what was

We're standing in the shadow forever
Her shadow's in the way of our love
What should have been forgotten forever more
The shadow of what was

We're standing, we're standing, we're standing
We're standing in the shadow of love
We're standing in the shadow
It's always with us, the shadow of what was

We're standing, we're standing, we're standing
We're standing
