

Laura MacLean

"Girl In The Air"

Visit "Girl In The Air" on MotoLyrics.com

We hit it right off from the start-
Should I have held out should I have held it off
Now that you got what you were after
You're starting to fade
What can't you say

There's a girl in the air
The sky inside my heart has turned to gray
There's a girl in the air
This silent hover-cloud is threatenin' to break

Well I take a risk on what I assess
But I'm not foolish
You're running late
I don't like to face
I've wasted my time
I made a mistake

There's a girl in the air
The sky inside my heart has turned to gray
There's a girl in the air
This silent hover-cloud is threatenin' to break
There was a time when you cared
(I know that she's out there- she's taking you from me)
I never had to catch you looking away
There's a girl in the air
(I know that she's coming- she's calling you away)
The realization dawns like stinging rain

I was sure we felt so right
I never dreamed it would differ so soon
And in the end- is it tonight
Or am I imagining this sudden change in climate
This silent disconnect she's in the air

Chorus
The realization dawns that it's gonna rain
She's in the air- and it's gonna rain
She's in the air

