Sometimes I sit here alone
And sometimes I sit here with you
And sometimes I sit with your ghost
I'm still holding on
But my feelings have changed
It all seems deranged that I stuck here
Alone in the dark
And you carry my heart
As we're playing our parts
But I have been have

Sometimes I try not to talk
And sometimes the words come out right
And sometimes I speak like a child

But I'm still holding on
But my feelings have changed
It all seems deranged that I'm stuck
Here alone in the dark
And you carry my heart as we're playing our part
But I have been the exams you got

But my feelings have changed
It all seems deranged

Sometimes I dare to be weak
And sometimes I try to be strong
