Working overtime, moving fast to nowhere
Wondering will it ever end
Where's the finish line
They must have moved it again
Where we can't see it

When the world comes crumbling down
Keep your feet steady on the ground
'Cause hey, we can push it away
You don't have to worry now
Tomorrow's a brand new day
It's never too late
To find the higher ground
Don't ever back down

Break those strings attached
To the weight that's holding you back
Just she'd your armor
It's not all ways sugar sweet
You've got to learn to taste the sour
What's one without the other

When the world comes crumbling down
Keep your feet steady on the ground
'Cause hey, we can push it away
You don't have to worry now
Tomorrow's a brand new day
It's never too late
To find the higher ground
Don't ever back down

You'll always get through
Whatever's thrown at you
It's not too much longer
We'll make you stronger

'Cause hey, we can push it away
You don't have to worry now
'Cause it a brand new day
'Cause hey, we can push it away
You don't have to worry now
Tomorrow's a brand new day

It's never too late
To find the higher ground
Don't ever back down

'Cause hey, we can push it away
You don't have to worry now
Tomorrow's a brand new day
It's never too late
To find the higher ground
Don't ever back down
