You did it before,
You knock on my door,

You say you can't live without me.

And when you were through,

No warning, no clue,

You say you just need to be free...

It's your TWISTED REALITY.

It's got nothing to do with me.

It's not gonna bring me down, oh no...

It's your TWISTED REALITY.

It's got nothing to do with me.

In what world did you think that this could happen....

In what world did you think that this could happen....??

I maybe look dumb,

I don't own a gun,

I'm angry and I don't believe you.

The lesson I learned,

was not to get burned.

I know I never can trust you...

It's your TWISTED REALITY.

It's got nothing to do with me.

It's not gonna bring me down, oh no...

It's your TWISTED REALITY.

It's got nothing to do with me.

In what world did you think that this could happen....

In what world did you think that this could happen....??

Just said "no,"

pointed the way to go.

It's no lie,

I'm meaning to deny you, and

I'm gonna try to reach for the sky.....

You can pull your hair, Jump into the air.

You can waive a stick, I'm not buyin' it.

I can feel the breeze, cause your mouth is just flappin'....

You can do a dance, You can drop your pants.

You can stand on your head, You can roll over dead,

you can beg me "please", and it's still not gonna happen....
