Twenty-nine and I'm going back to you the basics
Finding love, making peace, having a little more patience
I wanna love somebody more than myself
Cause it would do some good for my mental health
To take a backseat
Remember everything you taught me

I need You to

Show me how to feel again
I come to You with open hands
Teach me to be real again
Take me back
To where it all begins

Slowing down, tuning out all the noise
Just to hear Your voice
Sounds simple enough, I know
But it's a daily choice
I wanna love when it's costly
Be quick to forgive
Run to the one who calls me to live

Show me how to feel again
I come to You with open hands
Teach me to be real again
Take me back
To where it all begins

To where it all begins(x4)

Show me how to feel again
I come to You with open hands
Teach me to be real again
Take me back
To where it all begins

(Twenty-nine and I'm going back to you the basics)

Take me back

To where it all begins
Cause You're where it all begins
