Well it's been another long hard day the boss doesn't listen to a word you say the paycheck is the only thing you get and a god damn cigarette you get home late just to walk the dog she only seems to love you when you throw that ball a big wet kiss is all you get

so breathe me in so you don't have to think about the world you're in when you play the game you find sometimes you lose and you win

it's a Saturday night and the stars above are fading out of focus like the face at the bar you head outside with a guy you just met for a god damn cigarette now it's 2 a.m. and it's time to go home you better check your message on your new cell phone but what your really missin' is the love that you get from those god damn cigarettes

Chorus

your head is heavy as you turn out the light wouldn't it be nice if you could sleep all night but what you're really missing is the love that you get from some one you still haven't met
