I don't care about the nice car you've got I don't give a damn about your stunning watch I'm just living for today it's just another day you're worried about your job afraid of what you've got but life is too short to worry and to rot you've got to enjoy your day by day and lay down in the sun

have fun never mind of what's going on and now you're gonna be the only one to live your life of gold now say tomorrow I don't care my friends will still be there I'm kinda coco b.ware

just want to live my life in peace

I don't care about political debates the money that I save italian hit parades I'm just living for today
it's just another day
you're acting like a slave you're feeling like you're old I wanna see the world before I'm getting bald I've got to enjoy my day by day
and lay down in the sun...

tomorrow I'll be gone my friends will come along that's why I sing this song
just want to live my life in peace
