Catch the first train
Catch the first bus
Catch the first plane
Take your first chance to get away
You're too good for this place

You can go down under
You can take a foreign lover
You can get so high
And don't come down
Until you've seen it all

Until leaves begin to fall
Until snow begins to fall
Why don't you take your time
Until you change your mind

It's not too serious
It's not the end of the world
And I love your shoes and your dress tonight
But you never invited me to your party

I used to wait for hours outside your house
Outside your house
'Coz you were always late to see me and I
Would wait for you forever

Until leaves begin to fall
Until snow begins to fall
Why don't you take your time
Until you change your mind

It's not too serious
It's not the end of the world
And we can dance so close tonight but you know
That you never even looked at me when we were younger
