No shopping, no choice
I can't stay here and listen to your voice
I'll be gone before you're home
And if you want to know where, I went to Then baby you, can read it in my note
It says I went to be alone

Yeah babe,
I know I make about twice the money you make
But of course, i'm never called a stupid whore or a fake
And i don't structure my life

Around fear of murder, dismemberment, or rape
But i hardly see what that has to do with our relationship

Now if you want to know where, i went to Baby you can read it in my note
It says I went to be alone
