And when the world is falling down on me
You're always here to help me stay
When my belief is getting weak from time to time
You're always here to help me pray
When all my feelings getting weaker
You warm me up and make me smile
When I think everything is oh, so bad
You just say: it's fine
I'll have to find you
Where can I search now
When will my mind know
That you're already here
I never trust in anyone more than in you
You give me answers when I need them
The world's a jungle that is hard to understand
You help me through when it gets too deep
But there are times when you are far away from me
Then I feel empty and alone
Where are you then when I just need you so
Come show me my home
I'll have to find you
How can I search now
When will my mind know
That you're already here
I'll have to find you
Where can I search now
When will my mind know
That all my life is easy
Cause I see that you are the
Only one for me
Nothing's going wrong
Cause you lead me
All the way
I see the light and all is bright
When I come to you
And I will reach the salvation
I'll have to find you
Where can I search now
When will my mind know
That you're already here
I'll have to find you
Where can I search now

When will my mind know
That you're already here
Ah ah whooo...
Ah ah whooo...
Ah ah whooo...
