You've been sitting here all morning
Singing to an empty cup
Cold smiles to hide the sorrow
But I know that he's tearing you apart

I'm running out of words to cover up for what he'd done
It's only getting worse
Only getting worse
You can cut and paste you heart a million times from him
Until you crash and burn
Until you learn

Just maybe (Why can't you see)
He ain't the man for you
Just maybe (I'm all you need)
You need to let him go
Oh baby (Just you and me)
Stop pretending
I can see you crying (I'm dying)
Why you lying (Te amo)
To yourself

Loneliness and cigarettes
An awkward silence fills the air
Can't you see there's no tomorrow
If you throw your sanity away

I'm running out of cards to play
This never ending game
It's time to tell the truth
You need to hear the truth
For every tear you she'd for him
I she'd one more for you
I don't know what to do
Cause I love you

Just maybe (Why can't you see)
He ain't the man for you
Just maybe (I'm all you need)
You need to let him go
Oh baby (Just you and me)

Stop pretending
I can see you crying (I'm dying)
Why you lying (Te amo)
To yourself
You're my best friend
You're my soul mate
Always with you
Always by your side

If only you could see what's in my heart

Just maybe (Why can't you see)
He ain't the man for you
Just maybe (I'm all you need)
You need to let him go
Oh baby (Just you and me)
Stop pretending
I can see you crying (I'm dying)
Why you lying (Te amo)

Just maybe (Why can't you see)
(Just maybe, just maybe)
He ain't the man for you
Just maybe (I'm all you need)
You need to let him go
Oh baby (Just you and me)
Stop pretending
I can see you crying (I'm dying)
Why you lying (Why do you keep on lying)
To yourself

Why do you keep on lying to yourself
Why do you keep on lying to yourself
