Was it something in the rain? For the chance of love again
That made me explain the secrets of my soul
I guess i only needed someone to hold
For I was gone without a trace, when the rain blew away

And it seems, I've spent my whole life
Waiting for love, and when it comes
I always ran away

Was it something from a dream? That touch my memory or a picture
I didn't know I'd seen that made me stop and stare
And then I'd lost him If he was ever there Cause I'm afraid of being close where I need to be the most

And it seems, I've spent my whole life
Waiting for love, and when it comes
I always ran away

Cause I'm afraid of being close where I need to be the most

And it seems, I've spent my whole life
Waiting for love, and when it comes
I always ran away

And I'm afraid, I've spent my whole life waiting for love
Till my last day has come to ran away
