I can't ignore these feelings my mind can do with out

Tracing stars upon her ceiling, constellations filled with doubt

I'll burn for you like the fireflies for June, like I always do

You can step outside, come dancing in my light and know its all for you

Six months and a miracle seemed like it was all we ever needed to make it through the night

Summer scars, I'll fall into her heart- we'll sit up on the roof and know we made it out alive

And I know you've got your questions, I've got my own to share

Taking turns to find the answers like this game of truth or dare

The truth is I'd give this all away, all you have to say is every word I ever gave to you

Six months and a miracle seemed like it was all we ever
needed to make it through the night

Summer scars, I'll fall into her heart- we'll sit up on the roof and know we made it out alive

Hold on tight just don't let go yet, play your dreams out on my doorstep

(you know you don't have to go tonight)

Because with you I fell completely, all the pieces fit so neatly- getting my heart broken never felt so right

Six months and a miracle seemed like all we needed to make it through the night

Summer scars, I'll fall into her heart- we'll sit up on the roof and know we made it out alive

Six months and a miracle were all we needed to make it through the night Summer scars, I'll fall into her heart- we'll sit up on the roof and know we made it out alive
