Wish someone would tell me when
I won't think of you again
I'll get past the emptiness
And let a little happiness back in

Pretending not to care leads me halfway there

One of these, one of these days, I'll be completely
Over you, heaven knows how long it will take
And one of these, one of these days, I'll find somebody Who'll love your memory away, one of these
One of these days, somehow, some way

Ever since you've been gone
Time has a way of draggin' on and on Friends drop by to comfort me
But I'm not much company for long

Oh, I'll get past what was if I live long enough

And one of these, one of these days, I'll be completely
Over you, heaven knows how long it will take
And one of these, one of these days, I'll find somebody Who'll love your memory away, some way, one of these days
One of these days, somehow, some way

And one of these, one of these days, I'll be completely
Over you, heaven knows how long it will take
And one of these, one of these days, I'll find somebody
Who'll love your memory away, one of these days
One of these days, one of these days, somehow, some way

One of these days, hey, hey, one of these days
One of these days, one of these days
