Wish someone would tell me when
I won't think of you again
I'll get past the emptiness and
Let a little happiness back in

Pretending that you came
Leaves me half way there

One of these, one of these days
I'll be completely over you
Heaven knows how long it will take

And one of these, one of these days
I'll find somebody who'll love your memory away
One of these days

One of these days
Some how, some way

Ever since you've been gone
Time has a way of dragging on and on
Friends drive by to comfort me
But I'm not much company for long

Oh, I'll get past what was
If I live long enough

One of these, one of these days
I'll be completely over you
Heaven knows how long it will take

And one of these, one of these days
I'll find somebody who'll love your memory away
Some way, one of these days

One of these days
Some how, some way

And one of these, one of these days
I'll be completely over you
Heaven knows how long it will take

And one of these, one of these days
I'll find somebody who'll love your memory away
One of these days

One of these days
One of these days
Some how, some way

One of these days
(One of these days)
(One of these days)

One of these days
(One of these days)
(One of these days)

One of these days
(One of these days)
One of these days
(One of these days)
